The balmy days of spring were followed by the warm and long days of early summer. The day of Pentecost was at hand. It was a great hold day for the young people. All the young men and girls of the village had been making preparations for a week. The festival always wound up with a dance which look place on the threshing floors of the farm houses. The farmers had to furnish the accommodations for the dance in rotation. The day before the festival every hand was active in the arrangements, and every soul broyant in antenpation of the ammenment of come. The maste, consulting of a rothin, a base viole and a charlonet, were engaged. The young men and boys went out and brought in amminis of beech boughts to decorate the higher rooms, and the girls robbed every garden of its bright flowers for the purpose of making wreaths, festious and nonegays. named in the Boston circular A few thousand shares at any time would break the market. The actual value of Transcontinental then, is a thing very difficult to get at. We quote It is safe to recken the ammai harges of the Oregon Transcontinental company, in addition to its bonded debt, at $900,000 to $1,000,000 for offset thus, the only present productive asset of the company is its safe to productive asset of the company is its $15,000,000 of O B. 5. N If this latter company is its safe to the Northern and Union Pacific companies, the dividends for the next three years will be at the rate of 5 per cent, per annua, which will give the Oregon & Transcontinental companies $725,000, and will leave a deficit of $200,000 or $200,000 yearly if, on the other hand, the lease of the Gregon & Transcontinental companies of $25,000 or $200,000 yearly if, on the other hand, the lease of the Gregon this source will be quite uncertain, as I; is generally admitted by the directors of the Gregon halves & Navigation company that the financial interests of the company would best beserved by a temporary assphance of dividends, and no dividends would have been declared thu year had it not been left that they were of vital importance to the tregon Transcontinental company onlived its usefulness? Born of the famons "blind pool," its nim was to contraine the present many other cor perallor we can remember. It is still controlled by a small clique who care, apparently, only for their own interests, and whose deads are served. Its existence is only a source of memas to the Northern Pacific and Oregon Railway and Navigation companyes, and their market value would be greatly enhanced by its inquidation.

And the Northern Pagific from the Transcontinental saying

The Oregon Transcontinental company owns its assets very much as the or thinay customer owns the stocks which his braker is carrying for him. For it is well known that aid of the national and are stocked to their full market value. And this has been an element of danger to all three companies, and will confine to be so until the affairs of the Oregon Transcontinental company, are put into better shipe. But, or the productions and investors have bestated to buy Oregon Rullway 1. Vivigation while there was danger that some unpaid oregon Transcontinental ionn might precipitate thousands of some of the stock in the market, and perhaps hring the whole it thermy fabric to the ground. The consummation of the much talked of lease of the Oregon Hallway at d'a urgat in companies would go far to introduce an element of stability into the small put.

the mapiration of articles of this kind proceeds from discrimined stockholders. The discussion is an incident of some interest in the contest between stock jugglers for management of a large property whose value is larged on the productife industry of a vest rountry thousands of miles distant from the scene of these transactions. Operation of the rule olds is a secondary object. The primary object is to uggle with the stocks.

the Northern Lacific for the year ended June by 1985, as compared with those of the year ended June 30, 1889, has been compiled. The earnings for the year 1888-4 were $12,503,575 the operating expenses $6,922,525. For the year 1884-5 the earnings were $11,284,150, and the operating expenses $6,923,310. Decrease of earnings was $1,826,425, and decrease of per ading expenses was $1,826,425, and decrease of the read for 1884-5 were $5,223,710. The deficit for the year was $48,567. Thus is closs work. It is crofidently believed that the year 1885-6 will show a considerable surplus.

TIMERA LAND TITLES INTESTIGATED Some for years since a company known as the Columbia Finme & Lumber company was organized bere, the members of which pur clusted thirty four quarter sections of land under the provinces of the timber act, or chamble or unty, Washington territory, the information from a special timber agent to the effect that from a special timber agent to the effect that the land so purchased was fit for agricultural purposes, the commissioner of the general land office suspended the entries and ordered an investigation made of the lands with a view to their receivery by the government. The sections were examined by a surveyor at year or so ago, and the taking of testimony in the cases, which hea being going on for some time before Register Barin and Receiver Fillsbury of the land office at Oregon City, was completed restords. Newton McCoy appeared as attorney for the government in the case. The testimony will at some he forwarded to the commissioner, who will detice whether the claims shall be forfetted on not.

of not. Yesterody was abort of a crazy day at police headquarters. The first case was that of Helena Rauch, a young woman of German parentage, brought in at 8 o'clock in the morn ug by policeman Beach, from Alder and Sixth etreets, where the officer found her standing in a doorway with no spharent object in view. Mass Rauch was condited in the asylom at East Portland some six years ago, under the care of Dr Josephi. For case is not of a violent instance She is to cutward appearance perfectly sensible, is a voing woman of more than ordinary intelligence and the daughter of a for ner well known physician of Chicago. Her mightly runs in the main mound line, she heling of the belief that her re alives at Kagle (rock wish her to narry a farmer for whom she cares naught. Helenae ovs by her conversa ion that she has been well educated, and persons administion with the infortunate creature say she is a mu socian of it mean order. After an examination before county judge J. A. Moralind, assisted by two doctors, the woman was bridered coin intited to the asylome Salero. Yestercay was a sort of a crazy day at police

Let the salary of the mayor be reduced in $1000 (and then that office will be more of a sinecure than any other office in the city), the salaries of the concilient be restricted to the oh figure, and the reduction be made in the salar se of the other officials as proposed by the Gallingher ordinance, and then the people of the city will begin to hope that the declarations of the mayor in his naugural message in favor of retreachment of expenditures were not mere felle words. The utterly depleted conditions of the city treasury, as shown by the antitions's last message to the coupcil, calls for the most rigid measures of exonomy on every hand

THE VICTORIANS BEATEN.

Laid Out by the Portlands Yesterday Afterneon-Boore 13 to 3—The Visitors Battery To-day te Commat of Tierney and Gels

More than 1000 people attended "the Oaks resterday, afternoon to witness the first game in this city be ween the Amity club, of Victoria, and the Portlands Nearly one-third of the speciators were ladies, and a nice crowd if was speciators were issues, and a nice crown it was too generous in a planuse for both sides, and recognizing with a louts every fine individual play "everal of the ball tossers bad to raise their caps, in response to "encores" after ever-good but of work. This is the seatern style, and good on or work this is do essient style, and it is a good thing that the crowd here have adopted a moste of applauting a player in per son It tends to sharter work and more pleasure to spectators. Our English cousins were outbatted yesterday. Every hit by the Portlands came in op-narionate, and though errors by the home club day. Every hit by the Portlands came in opportunely, and though errors by the home child were more numerous than those of the visitors, they were not so costly. In the eighth landing the Portlands "collièred" Borthwick's pitching for three samed rims. And they ran bases better. It would be hard to pick out five better runners than coulder, Bachtel, Brandt, Brown and Edwards. Timmons's excellent throwing to second made the visitors timid, but he couldn't get a ball within twenty feet of the third baseman, and the three errors scored against him are for will; throws! He assonished himself and his friends by making a single and a two-bagger when they were needed. He also took four tout tips direct from the ball. Brandt made two two-baggers and cone three-base hit—the only one made o the new grounds. Geis played second in fine style and seems to have learned to bat while he was gone.

Brilliant plays by the visitors were catches by G Gowen and Russell after long runs. Kuna's of Gowen and Russell after long runs. Kuna's work at first base was first rais. They are fine lot of young near, and it thay had had their regular pittles the score, no doubt, would have been different. Ford umpired this game very well. The crowd, always like Ford, because they can bear his decisions. He always tries to be absolutely impartial and no other man who has unupired games here has such good judgment in calling balls and strikes. Fellowing is THE SORE.

REAL ESTATE REPORT

The following special report of the real esthe market is furnished THE OBEGORIAN by J. Fred Clark, real estate and slock broker

The recorded transactions of Multinomah county during the past week number twenty-eight against eleven hast week, and the inquiry is certainly far ahead of that of any period during the past five months. It is true that would-be lurchasers demand extreme befrock rates, Nor can this be wondered at when the public has been warned that property values and reof-als are altogether too high in Portland. Whether such is the case or not will be proved by future results, since property values and reof-ais, like water and all other things sublibinary, finally find their own level. To prove that such induces, presumed values exist many cities have tate market is furnished THE OREGONIAN by J. cy come results, since property values and fenisis, like water and all other things sublinary,

There might still have been time 1 perhaps to outwil fat, by mirriage by former defeats had this couraged the min and he went on his silert and softrary way without further striving. From time to time a question come to him ritler as a suggestion from outsice than as a thought originating in his own mind whether he had cone quite right by Iom Simes the father. He remembered how try necessary Simes had been to the beginning of his success and wonlered whether such struces were after all quite repridements by a good salary, and would it not have been a fairer thing by Simes if he had consented the children should marry and taken Simes son as his partner? But, for the mest part, Jacob Riching was able to turn a ceal car to this impertinent whisper rom somewhere found the house of Riching & Son' had been the dream of his boyhood, tie am button of his young manbood the strong purpose of his middle age and again and again rad stern death met him on the threshold of his desi-es, and at his love—the foolish young love of a girl and boy—had overthrown him utter y. him, and he could not carry his fortune through the gates of he grave. I have just come new to the place where my story began. The time is the Sist of December 1883 and Jacob Riching at 64 feels himself already an old man. It was in the melancholy company of his thoughts that we have gone back to his boybood and then on through the advancing years that have at last left him so old so solitary and so sad. It is as if he who find taken stock of his own life. What, indeed was the run of these years of struggle? It was restless. He felt as if some change were before him. He thought of his wife dead so long ago. Coult she is reaching out.

before him He thought of his wife dead so long ago toult she by reaching out pale hinds to draw him into the world where she was gone? No surely for he realized in this final stock taking that the long thing in her for which he had never barguined was her low. What then, were this undefined influence which was making obtude terrible? He would go to Simes. At heath eshould find someone to speak to there. With old times now hi thought of it was "I and jet how young and cheerful he dwilly seemed. What was the secret? Io was still not quite sure he had done ust the still not quite sure be had done ust the right thing by Sim's Perhaps be ought to have given him a share in the business and he would have done so years up only he had been so set apon keeping it intact for Riching & Son' Well, perhaps there was something he could do about it even jet. He put on his overcoat and went out into the keen cold of the Dreember might. It was a gay night as the night literature as any night as the night before New Year's 1s wont to be 1. The ife of which the streets were full made his loneliness lonlier. The frosty air made his quiet blood trigle. He felt a sharp sense of his own existence Actually 10, too, was hurtying with the rist.

After a brisk walk of a quarter of an

After a brisk wall of a quarter of an hour he found himself at his bookkeeper's door Old Simes hirself pened it and a look of puzzled surprise crossed his face as he saw what visitor had arrived.

Anything wrong Mr Riching? he asked anxiously.

'No, nothing unless it's wrong that I should be paying you an unexpected visit.

Two men who have managed to attract public attention lately are Heisrich Conried and Sydner Rosenfeld. Both are identified with comic opera, with a their public exploits are characterized by a dashnot fisher of opera bouffe Conried is short, dark and active, with bristling upright hair, and reminds 15 of a groome in an old-fashloned German fairy ale. Hie was formerly the stage mruager of the Thalla theater, where he did sexe lent artistic work, at an enormous expense, which finally swamped the management. At this period of his carser he wore a gravat of such vivid crimion that it was luminous at night, said in the fark recessee of the rast Thalla stage, where he loved to prow mysteriously about, our ed was often mistaken for a glow-worm. To the nembers of his company he was a standing meaner. With the stars he was perpetually embroiled. At present he is the stage manages of the Christo, where he distinguished himse it he learner a called child. he was perpetually emissible. At present he is the stage manages of the Casino, where he distinguished himse I by issuing an order forbidding the chorus people to exter the green room between the axis. He has not been long at the Casino, but it is said that he has already contrived to involve himself with nearly every one in the place, and peace and rulet have departed from the once haspy meant once of that place of amusement, and yet his grotesque fromman has a the popt movinetge of the stage and one put a place as with as much haste and skill as any man'n the business.
